

Madeline (Discovery Club): park bark lark.
Game: Wear a blindfold toque. Be led around a forest.
Touch some trees. Hug one tree. Be led back to the start.
Take off the toque. Find the tree you hugged.

Stump does not stump Ahlin (Explorers).

Amiyah (Explorers): bars down.

Brielle (Explorers) zips with a seat.
Tony (Explorers) zips with a shout.

"When you get tired, your legs hurt in a good way," Daniil (Discovery Club).

John (Discovery Club) runs a 400-metre flip-flop lap.
Hazel (Discovery Club) rests with a dandy lie on dandelions.

Ruhan (Discovery Club) kicks with cleats.

Luca (Discovery Club) dribbles full-court during a lesson in basketball skills.
Marcus (Discovery Club) shoots at min-arcade during basketball free play.

Axl (Explorers) takes a selfie-soak in the face.

Lorraine (Discovery Club) launches beach ball from underwater

Marianna (Discovery Club) tests science experiment egg. The egg sat in vinegar for five days. The acid dissolved the shell. The raw egg bounced when dropped a few inches at a table. It broke when dropped a few feet above the ground.

"Flowers and Vase" in clay and paint by Zach (Discovery Club).

"Ladybug on a Leaf" in colored pencils by Jaime (Explorers).

Walking the dog

A stroll at 1338 West 67th Avenue in August 2024 revealed:

Explorers used elastics and tissue boxes to make music. Nothing to sneeze at.

Hitting a ping pong ball over the net and landing on the table is challenging. Just hitting it against the wall not so much. This new sport is three walls short of being racquetball. And it's not squash until someone steps on a ball.

Most Discovery Club swimmers chose to float on top of the Watermania waves. Some stood, bent forward and stared them down face first. Water, water everywhere and not a drop to blink.

Rock-paper-scissors was played underwater. Lake-waterfall-tsunami anyone?

Cardboard was cut and taped into costumes. Characters were robots and head-to-toe warriors. AI and IA, as in, Artificial Intelligence and I Armor.
